Description of the exhibition:

Port Adelaide has an aura which is palpable. This exhibition captures the incredible diversity of Port Adelaide and the Lefevre Peninsula by showcasing the modern landscape that is the region today. When captured by the photographer's lens Port Adelaide and the Lefevre Peninsula offers incredible wildlife with the world famous Port River Dolphins and migratory bird populations, the unique people of the area, amazing old buildings from the mid 1800s, industry and landscapes in a microcosm of diversity rarely seen elsewhere.

Sue don't hesitate to show in her works some environmental problems too but generally this exhibition showcases everything that is special and beautiful about Port Adelaide and the Lefevre, and the works must be seen to be believed.

Additionally Auntie Annette Gai Boreham (Sparrow) and Lindsay Kilminster will have select offerings of their incredible acrylics and oils on canvas.

There is nowhere like Port Adelaide and its people and ASSP Gallery is to have this exhibition in the heart of the Port just by the famous Black Diamond Corner.

Works will be rotated periodically to keep the exhibition fresh.

The Hon Mark Butler MP will be launching this exhibition with proceedings beginning at 5pm, Friday 3rd of June in the most important exhibition for ASSP

Gallery in 2016. This event is free to the area's business community, invited guests and local residents.

Works will be available to be purchased in postcard size all the way to A5 and where possible in widths up to 5 metres, and in a variety of materials in the days after the launch.
